8. Partnership Overview

The Øredev Conference is for developers and programmers alike, as well as hackers, geeks, IT managers, entrepreneurs, designers, trainers, educators and enthusiasts!

The 9th annual Øredev Conference will take place 4-8 November, 2013.

Øredev is the premiere opportunity for any European or internationally focused organization to have a complete overview of the software development chain, as well as to contribute their own experience. You will be among peers and the industry's most advanced experts in their field. In keeping with Øredev's organic growth, expected are 1 500 -1 600 attendees in 2013.

Partnership options presented in this prospectus will provide your organization with access to industry leaders and decision makers. We offer you maximum value according to your needs, whether it be exposure, networking, a launching pad, or a combination of any or all of the above.

Within this presentation, discover which package will best suit your organization's needs. All offered is not restricted to what lies within- we can help you create the best opportunities or alternate suggestions you may envision for superior recognition for your venture at Øredev.

I look forward to meeting with you to discuss partnership opportunities that take advantage of the unique value that is Øredev.

Platinum Partnership

There is only one sponsorship available at this unparalleled level. It is reserved for the most serious and ambitious of enterprises who are seeking maximum exposure. Your brand receives nearby recognition as that of Øredev itself. The Platinum partner enjoys name and logo recognition at every offered opportunity. Platinum acquisition produces benefits during conference launch, for the duration of the conference itself and perhaps most beneficially, long into the future with your branding embedded and introducing all session videos, to be seen thousands of times over.
